Williams' Speech Excites the Bryan Meeting at Boston.

INVECTIVE AND DIRECT ACCUSATION

Mr. Bryan Greeted by a Large Gathering on the Commons and in Music Hall—Mr. Sewall Speaks and Says He Will Not Retire.

Boston, Sept. 26.—William Jennings Bryan arrived in Boston at 5:37 last evening. The delegation to meet Mr. Bryan consisted of Robert Treat Payne, jr., Timothy M. Coakley, F. A. Hobart, Major Henry Wynn, Frederick Crawford and Ernest C. Marshall. Hon. George Fred Williams came in on the train with Mr. Bryan, having gone on a train to Springfield to meet him. A great crowd was at the depot to see Mr. Bryan. The police had great trouble in keeping the people in order. Again and again the police made a noble stand to control the crowd, but each time they were forced up against the train which brought Mr. Bryan in. After a few minutes Mr. Bryan appeared upon the platform of his car. There was a cheer and a mighty rush by the crowd. The police resorted to force, as they were obliged to do, and at last pushed the crowd back and made way for Mr. Bryan and Mr. Williams. The candidate then walked through the station to Kneeland street, the crowd yelling all the time. When he finally reached Kneeland street, where his carriage was in waiting, the crowd in the street which filled the whole neighborhood, cheered and yelled. Mr. Bryan quickly entered the carriage and was driven to the American house, where, after a short reception at which a few members of the Bimetallic union and Hon. Arthur Sewall of Bath were present, he took luncheon with political silver men. At the close of the dinner Col. Nickerson introduced Hon. E. Moody Boynton, who welcomed Mr. Bryan to Boston. Mr. Bryan responded in a few serious words. It was then ten minutes after 7 o'clock and Mr. Bryan was due to begin speaking on the common at 6:45. It was 7:30 before he finally arrived there and he found gathered about the temporary stand that had been erected near the corner of Beacon and Charles streets from 50,000 to 75,000 people. Police officers said that the crowd numbered at least 50,000 people. Mr. Bryan said it was the largest gathering he had addressed. It was a howling, pushing, good natured, police-resisting crowd. Mr. Bryan was introduced by James H. Mellen of Worcester. After the cheers had subsided, he began his speech, which was confined chiefly to the money question and contained but few points not already covered by the speaker.

Sewall Says He Will Not Decline.

When Mr. Bryan had finished Mr. Sewall stepped upon a chair beside Mr. Bryan, who introduced him in the following words: Fellow citizens, I introduce to you a man who way up in Maine was willing to stand for free coinage when his neighbors were against it. I introduce to you a man who was in favor of an income tax although he had to pay it. I introduce to you a man who did not bow the knee or worship the gold calf. I introduce Arthur Sewall, the democratic candidate for vice-president." Mr. Sewall was received with applause and spoke briefly. Said he: "It is with great satisfaction to me that you have had this opportunity to see the great leader of the democratic party, your candidate for president. And I may say that it is a great satisfaction to me to let you know that his associate is still on the ticket. Some have asked whether I was no the ticket or not. I am glad of the opportunity to show you that your nominee for vice-president during this campaign will not decline until after election."

Williams' Sensational Speech.

After the close of the open air meeting Mr. Bryan was driven to Music hall where a great audience had already assembled to get a view of the democratic nominee. But the chief interest in this meeting was not the young candidate for the presidency, but in a sensational speech delivered by his friend and supporter and former colleague in congress, George Fred Williams, candidate for governor before the democratic state convention which will meet in Music hall to-day. The first demonstration of the evening was when Mr. Williams came on the stage from the wings. A cheer went up as Williams was recognized. Mr. Sewall's entrance also called forth applause and the disorder lasted for several minutes. Mr. Dennison called the meeting to order and presented Mr. Williams and the audience finally settled down to hear what Mr. Williams had to say. They heard something they had not expected.

Direct Accusations.

It was a speech full of invective and direct accusation. Josiah Quincy, mayor of Boston was criticized by the speaker and his name was hooted by the audience. Secretary Robinson of the Democratic state central committee was accused of moral irresponsibility. The most sensational part was toward the close, where Mr. Williams, addressing the delegates to the state convention, who were in the hall, requested them to remain until the meeting was over to draft a bill of equity to present to a judge, or to stay in their places until 11 o'clock this morning, when the convention will meet, to prevent the state committee from packing the house with "its heelers," to quote Mr. Williams, and thus take the temporary organization from the rightfully accredited delegates. The cheering and disorder became intense when Mr Williams proposed this method of outwitting his opponents."

THE ALLEGED DYNAMITE PLOT.

Examination of Ivory in the Bow Street Court Adjourned for Two Weeks.

London, Sept. 26.—The examination of [illegible] Ivory, the alleged dynamite, who was arrested in Glasgow on September 12, was continued in the Bow street police court yesterday. Mr. Goll, the keeper of the hotel at Antwerp at which John F. Kearney and Haines, two of Ivory's alleged follow-conspirators, stopped while in that city, was put on the stand. Goll is a brother-in-law of Kearney. He identified photographs of Kearney and Haines, who are under arrest in Rotterdam, and P. J. Tynan, who is in the custody of the French police at Boulogne-sur-Mer. He said the three men had been at his hotel. He also identified the prisoner in the dock, who, he said, had been known to him as Edward Bell. The four had held conferences in a wine shop Kearney "drank like a fish" while in Antwerp and the witness threatened to put him in an asylum. Detective Beausedom of Rotterdam was the next witness. He described the arrest of Kearney and Haines. When they were searched the police found in their possession receipted bills for nitric and sulphuric acids and absorbent clay. In a bag belonging to Haines were found twelve bombs. When asked how it came about that they had these bombs in their possession they said an unknown man had given them to them. They then refused to answer any further questions. Dynamite cartridges were found beneath Kearney's pillow in his room, and torn letters signed Edward Bell. The examination was then adjourned for two weeks.

DRIVER WILLIS RESPONSIBLE.

Suspended for Causing the Collision on the Baltimore Race Course.

Baltimore, Sept. 26.—The fall meeting at Gentlemen's Driving park closed yesterday. Willis, the driver of Corie McGregor, was found to have been responsible for the collision of Thursday in which four horses and their jockeys went down in a heap, and was suspended or a year and the horse declared distanced in the heat. Later in the day the judges reinstated Willis with the approval and by request of the other drivers interested in the race. Corie McGregor was badly cut about the legs and will not, it is thought, be in good condition to race for a year. John Reamer of Philadelphia, who was thought to have been fatally injured, escaped with slight bruises and was in his seat when the horses were called to the wire yesterday.

SYMPATHY FOR SPANIARDS.

Relief Measures Started in London for the Sufferers in Cuba.

London, Sept. 26.—A large number of the Spanish residents of this city met at the Winchester house yesterday afternoon and adopted resolutions expressive of sympathy for their fellow countrymen in Cuba and the Philippine islands who have lost their business or properties through the rebellions in those places, and who have otherwise suffered from the insurrections. The resolutions also congratulated the Spanish government on its determination to conquer the insurgents, even if it should be necessary to drain the Spanish treasury to attain that end. A committee, composed of leading members of the Spanish colony, was appointed to collect funds for the relief of the Spanish sufferers from insurrections. The money will be placed in the hands of the Spanish minister of war and the Red Cross society for distribution.

Killed by a Boy Scorcher.

Rahway, N. J., Sept. 26.—Patrick O'Keefe of East Rahway, who was run down Thursday night by Orville Way, aged 14, with a bicycle, died last night. He was a member of Company C, Thirtieth New Jersey volunteers. Way was trying a companion's wheel, and was scorching along Cherry street at a pretty lively gait when he struck O'Keefe. In falling O'Keefe's head came in contact with the curb stone, which caused a fracture at the base of the brain.

Survivors of the Fenian Raid.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 26.—A large delegation of veterans of 1866 who served in the Fenian raid, waited on Premier Laurier yesterday and requested that a grant of land and a medal be bestowed on each of the survivors. The premier said that it was too late to consider the matter this session, but he would lay it before his colleagues so that the matter could be presented next session.

TRADE IS IMPROVING

A Brighter Outlook in All Branches of Business.

GAINS NOT RAPID YET DISTINCT

Prices Stiffened, the Money Market Improved, Industries Resuming Operations and on the Whole the Situation Is More Cheerful.

New York, Sept. 26.—Dun's review of the state of trade for the week just closing will, to-day, say: A moderate and yet distinct improvement is seen, no longer only in the buying of materials, which continues and stiffens prices, but also in orders for products of some industries, in money markets and in exports of staples. It is as yet little more than a step towards better things, but has already started some important works, and prompted a few considerable contracts. Continuing arrivals of gold, since the movement began, have raised the treasury reserve above $115,000,000, strengthened the banks, and relaxed the stringency in commercial loans, so that at about 1 per cent. lower rates more business was done than in three previous weeks. Hoarding is no longer reported, but some hoards are being unlocked. The movement of crops continues large, and purchases for export have advanced prices or prevented depression. While the gain in working force is not great, it seems clear that for the first time in many months there is some net gain.

Advance in Produce Markets.

An important change is the general advance in produce markets, especially in wheat, which rose sharply on Thursday and Friday, closing 5⅛c. higher for the week, with much buying, apparently on foreign account. Reports of crops abroad were supposed to be the chief cause, as visible supplies in this country increased largely, but for the first time since July 1 western receipts fell below those of the same week last year. They are still large, and for the first quarter of the crop year thus far have been 52,721,158 bushels, against 40,414,351 last year, a gain of about 30 per cent., and it is conceivable, but cannot be considered quite probable, that such receipts have come from a crop smaller than last year's, although prices averaged 10¼ cts. lower in July and 6.8c. lower in August than last year, and only fell below last year's in September because of the sharp decline then and as much advance now.

Cotton advanced an eighth a week ago, but lost three-sixteenths, and with full receipts might have gone further but for the resumption of work by several important mills. Less than the full capacity of mills is working, and the demand for goods has been slack, with a decline of a sixteenth in print cloths, but in other goods recent advances are maintained. A few of the woolen mills are resuming, the belated demand for heavy goods constituting most of the gain visible, but manufacturers show confidence that more goods will be wanted when the future is more clear. Finished products of iron meet more inquiry, and the placing of contracts for 15,000 tons of steel for three new battleships, for one large building here, and for several bridges, explain the starting of two or three works, but after such months have passed, a little business is a gain. There is no change in the boot and shoe manufacture, spring orders being held back to a great extent because of the advance in prices asked, but filling orders for immediate needs keep part of the shops busy. Completion of old orders resulted in shipments during four weeks past 2.7 per cent. larger than in 1894, and 6 per cent. larger than in 1892.

Business Failures.

Failures have been large, liabilities in three weeks of September $18,016,232 against $6,633,990 last year, $5,278,584 in 1894, and $26,899,197 in 1893, including the Lombard concern for $11,000,000. Manufacturing this year have been $6,385,140, against $2,094,145 last year, and $2,382,313 in 1894, while trading have been $6,731,327 against $3,386,020 last year, and $2,579,212 in 1894. Failures for the week have been 315 in the United States against 216 last year, and 39 in Canada against 50 last year.

GALES ON THE BRITISH COAST.

Telegraphic and Cable Communication Seriously Hindered.

London, Sept. 26.—A very severe gale from the northwest still prevails along the coast and is causing much damage. Telegraphic communication is seriously interfered with over the whole of the British islands. The British postoffice yesterday gave notice of delay to Ireland, the east, northwest and west of England, South Wales, the Channel islands and to the continent. The wires of the cable companies are working very slowly and cable messages are subject to delay. A large number of coasting vessels were unable to make a safe offing and were thrown ashore at Holyhead, Sheerness, Dover and Yarmouth. So far as known all the men on these wrecked vessels were saved by the lifeboats and coastguardmen. Isolated cases of drowning have been reported from different places along the coasts. At Yarmouth the wind blew with hurricane force. Many buildings were unroofed or otherwise damaged. At Ilfracombe, the fashionable watering place in Devonshire, the Arcade was wrecked and a great number of trees torn up by the roots. The steamers plying between Folkestone and Boulogne-sur-Mer were compelled to abandoned their trips. The steamers of the other lines running to the continent were greatly delayed, and their nonarrival under the circumstances caused much anxiety among those who had relatives or friends aboard of them. The American steam yacht Arcturus, owned by R. Stuyvesant of New York, has arrived at Southampton from Dover. She was caught in the storm and sustained some damage.

Dixon and White Fight to a Draw.

New York, Sept. 26.—The twenty-round bout last night between George Dixon of Boston and Jimmy White of Chicago, for the featherweight championship of the world, ended in a draw after twenty rounds. The colored lad went into the ring a hot favorite, but before the battle was half over the 5,000 spectators saw that he was not the Dixon of former battles. At times he showed some of his old-time cyclonic dash, but the restless energy and terrific punching power that made him famous were not there. Dixon met his match at last, and although the decision was a fair one, there were many who thought that White had the best of the encounter. In the last round he smilingly jabbed Dixon all around the ring.

GOLD IMPORTATIONS

Movements of the Yellow Metal to This Country Continues.

SEVERAL BIG ENGAGEMENTS ABROAD

A Further Sum of $2,300,000 Taken from the Bank of England for Import—More Than $3,000,000 Brought in During the Last 24 Hours.

New York, Sept. 26.—The importation of gold into the United States, which began a few weeks ago, stil continues. Lazard Freres, it was announced last evening has engaged to import to this country $1,500,000 in gold by the steamship Augusta Victoria and $600,000 by La Bourgogne, making a total of $2,100,000. This gold comes from the Bank of France. It was also announced that $200,000 in eagles had been sold yesterday afternnon by the Bank of England for export to this country. The Hamburg-American line steamer Normannia, which arrived yesterday from Hamburg, Cherbourg and Southampton, brought $3,250,000 in gold coin. Of this amount $2,000,000 was for Lazard Freres, $500,000 for Kuhn, Loeb & Co., $500,000 for the Bank of Montreal and $250,000 for Ladenburg, Thalman & Co. The consignment to Lazard Freres was sent to the treasury and no doubt all in due course will be added to the treasury reserve. Legal tender notes were taken for half of it so that the treasury reserve gained $1,000,000 at once. The treasury gold reserve also gained a further sum of $150,000 deposited by the Produce Exchange bank in exchange for legal tender notes.

Confident Feeling in Financial Circles.

Besides the gold received by yesterday's steamers, the St. Paul, which arrived last night, had $400,000 on board. The transfers of currency to the west and south yesterday from the subtreasury were very light. Sterling exchange was inactive, the actual rates being the same as on the previous day. A very confident feeling prevailed in financial circles. Next Thursday the interest on the old 4 per cent. United States bonds will be due and the treasury will have to pay out $5,596,000, of which sum about $4,200,000 will be disbursed through the sub-treasury in this city. This disbursement will tend in slight degree to the further relaxation of the money market. The treasury's gold balance of course will not be affected by the payments, except that it may relieve the banks to that extent of the necessity of depositing so much gold in exchange for greenbacks.

SHORT OF MAIL SACKS.

The Flood of Campaign Literature Swamps the Postal Facilities.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The activity of the headquarters of the various presidential nominees in sending out public documents and other literature has somewhat embarrassed the postoffice department by overtaxing its mail bag facilities. The result was an order issued to postmasters throughout the country directing all surplus mail equipment to be promptly forwarded to regular depositories; also that when mail sacks containing documents or other matter are received by any postmaster, they must be emptied at once and promptly forwarded to the proper depository. If members of congress or others have been permitted to take from a postoffice sacks containing matter addressed to them, the postmaster should demand the immediate return of such sacks and forward them with other surplus.

PNEUMATIC COUCHES.

An Appliance That May Revolutionize Sleeping Car Travel.

Can Also Be Used on Steamships Wher One's Stateroom Will Become a Parlor by Day—Beds That Take Up No Room.

Sleeping on air is the latest innovation in railway travel. The use of compressed air for this purpose will, in the estimation of railway men, eventually revolutionize railway travel and relegate the familiar and somewhat clumsy Wagner and Pullman sleeping cars to the background.

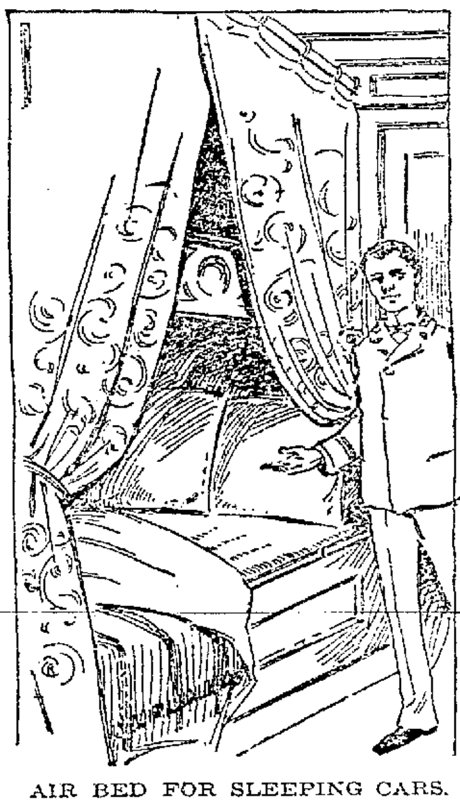
At present the only car completely fitted with compressed air cushions and beds is the private car of Vice President J. N. Schoonmaker, of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. These have been found, however, to be not only practicable, but to possess so many advantages over the accommodations of ordinary sleeping and parlor cars that a number of roads are having similarly fitted ones constructed, and before long they will be in general use on many of the great trunk lines of the country..

Col. Schoonmaker's car was built after the plans of L. F. Ruth, the inventor of this latest system of car furnishing. In appearance it does not differ externally from the ordinary private car of railroad officials. The interior by day is that of a handsomely fitted up parlor car.

The customary chairs are seen on either side of the car, and they are covered with plush. When one sits in them, however, a marked difference is noticed from the ordinary car chair. This is explained by the fact that instead of the usual upholstering, the chair cushions are filled with compressed air which lessens, in a great degree, to the occupant, the jolting and jarring of the car when in motion.

During the day no one would for a moment suppose that he was riding in a sleeping car, and it is not until the day coach is transformed into a sleeper that the possibilities of the use of compressed air in this direction are fully realized.

The transformation is affected in this wise: First, the air in the chair cushions is exhausted, the light frame work folded up and slipped into an opening in the side of the car. Thus all the seats in the car is disposed of and it is ready for the beds.



AIR BED FOR SLEEPING CARS.

The panels on either side of the windows open outward like a door. On the inside of these panels is a metal track over which is drawn a steel, spring-like arrangement which supports the bed. Fitting closely against the side of the car and concealed during the day by the closed panels, is a rubber bag folded after the fashion of an accordeon.

By turning a valve connected with a storage tank beneath the car, compressed air is admitted into the rubber bag, which inflates and forces itself outward from the sides of the car until it rests upon the steel framework, and the bed is ready to be made up. The head and foot of the bed are panels which fit also into the side of the car.

When the berth or bed is not desired for use another valve is turned, and the air in the mattress expelled. The mattress itself assumes the appearance of an empty rubber bag, and is drawn back against the side of the car as before. The panels are then closed and the sleeping car is once more ready to become the parlor car for the day traveler.

One great advantage of these appliances is that they can be fitted to steamships and dwellings as well as cars. They are particularly adapted for use in conveyances where economy of space is desirable, as on steamships, where they can be folded into the wall or stateroom partition during the day, and thus give the occupant almost twice the amount of space now available. This is an advantage which any one who has had to endure cramped stateroom accommodations will readily appreciate.

Other considerations which recommend this appliance to railroad men are its cleanliness, extreme lightness, and above all, its cheapness. The ordinary Pullman or Wagner sleeping car is the heaviest and costliest built, not only in its frame but in its fittings. Questions of strength and safety will naturally preclude a lighter frame and therefore the possibility of lighter fittings is of the greatest importance to a railroad company.

The invention of this system will probably, for this reason, mark the most radical change in the development of the sleeping cars, since they were first of all run in the United States, over 30 years ago.

WHERE MEN ARE CARELESS.

Thoughtless as to the Future of Wife and Family

It is a singular fact that the American man, who is the best, and most thoughtful husband in the world should yet be peculiarly thoughtless as to the future of his wife and children in the event of his death. How often this fact is brought home to all of us when a man dies and leaves his widow in poverty and his affairs in absolute confusion, whereas a little forethought might easily have prevented either or both. The most loving of husbands is often the one most careless in the making of his will. Either he forgets altogether to make one, or he leaves a document which he had planned to change, but for some reason or other failed to alter.

Again, he neglects to take out an insurance policy where his income easily justified his doing so. Or, perhaps, he took out a certain policy for the benefit of his mother, sister, father or brother, and the beneficiary having passed away it was his intention to alter the policy to the name of his wife. He intended to do it, but death found it undone, and trouble ensued for the widow. Particularly, in cases where a man marries for the second time, should the strictest punctuality and care be exercised in altering his will, insurance policy or such other documents as he may leave behind him tending to benefit his heirs or successors.

But men are optimistic about death. Friends may drop at their very sides, and for a time the lesson is brought home to them. "I must make my will, and see about my own affairs in case I die," says the man to himself, and he honestly intends to give the matter attention. But within a few days he has plunged into business again and forgotten his good resolution. Suddenly he dies, or becomes so seriously ill as to make suitable arrangements impossible. Then trouble ensues for those he leaves behind. Such cases are not isolated ones. Again and again during the past year have such instances come directly under my attention or I have heard of them. And yet, in each case, I venture to say, there existed an intention on the part of the dead man to "set his house in order." It was simply thoughtlessness; it was "put off" as a matter which could be attended to at any time. Naturally, the wife shrinks from discussing the subject of a provision being made for her and her children in the event of the death of her husband's passing away. Death is never a pleasant topic, even at its best, and it is a topic which we avoid if we can. The wife fears, too, having ulterior motives attributed to her if she mentions the subject. And so the matter of provision for the wife after the husband's death is allowed to go undiscussed. There is some reason why a woman should refrain from speaking of such a topic to her husband—and yet I cannot help thinking that it would often be better if she would. But there is no excuse for the man's neglect of so important a matter. No man should become so engrossed in affairs that he cannot take time to see so far as he is able, that no trouble that he can provide against shall come to his wife and children after his death. If he has anything to leave to them he should make a will and distinctly provide for the distribution of his effects. Nor can such a document be safely made except in the shape of a will legally drawn by a lawyer. "Memorandums" are worthless things in the eyes of the law, and frequently have exactly the opposite effect to that which was intended. The same care should be exercised in the case of insurance policies. I firmly believe that it is the duty of every man to be insured. With insurance policies to be had at such low rates as is at present the case, there is scarcely a man who cannot afford some sort of a policy, no matter how small the amount it may call for. What seems to the man himself in good health as a small amount for an insurance policy, often turns out to be a modest fortune to the woman or children who survive him. I wish, sometimes, that the taking out of an insurance policy, on the part of the husband, for an amount according to his means, might be made an obligatory part of every marriage ceremony.

I know whereof I speak when I say that there are hundreds of women in the homes of this land who are daily carrying with them the fear that their husbands or fathers are neglecting or forgetting to make suitable provision for them as widows or orphans. They shrink from speaking to the men of their homes about the matter. And is it especially for the benefit of these women that I write these words. Perhaps, where the occasion makes it necessary, they can, with a woman's skill, see that what I have written here may come to the attention of these men. And if my words should prove to be the means of bringing even one man to a realizing sense of his duty I shall not have written in vain. No man can afford to neglect a simple duty which may mean all the difference between happiness and misery to his family. Suitable provision he cannot allow himself to "put off," for surely it is true that "in the midst of life we are in death."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Latest Styles in Fans.

Empire fans still continue to lead the fashion in that very significant little accessory of dress which is always an addition to the dressy toilet and a positive necessity to the summer costume. Glitter seems to be the special feature of black fans, and spangles are a very conspicuous part of the decoration. Feather fans have not lost their prestige among the matrons, and are quite as much in use as ever, marabou-feathers alone being more in fashion than the ostrich.—Ladies' Home Companion.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE.

The Brooklyn Citizen, discussing the great demonstration in that city, Wednesday night, in honor of William J. Bryan, says:

We do not go so far as to predict victory for the party this year in the State of New York because of what was visible last night. What we do say is that in the elements which filled the two houses there was the assurance of many victories in the not remote future. The plain people are with the Democracy. That is the fundamental fact shown by the receptions given here to Bryan, and the future of the Republic will be controlled by them, despite all the powers that may be put forth by rings of capitalists and confederacies of special interests to prevent the Government from being conducted as Jefferson intended it should be. It is not at all improbable that this campaign is to stand related to the rejuvenated Democracy as the Fremont campaign stood to the anti-slavery cause. What is to the last degree improbable is that the movement for the re-assertion of the right of the toiling, honest multitude to rule the land will stop short of a triumph that shall be quite as memorable in the history of civilization as that which unmanacled the black man, and gave permanency to the Union of the States.

A NEW DYSPEPSIA CURE.

Over 6,000 People in the State of Michigan Cured in 1894 by This New Preparation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the new discovery for stomach troubles, is claimed to have cured over 6,000 people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894. These tablets have become so popular with physicians and people who have any form of indigestion that they have the endorsement of such physicians as Dr. Harlandson and Dr. Jennison as being the safest, most reliable remedy for sour stomach, chronic dyspepsia, gas, bloating, palpitation, headache, constipation and in all cases where the appetite is poor or the food imperfectly digested.

It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any kind of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. They are not a secret patent medicine but composed of vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin, Golden Seal, ginger and the digestive acids. They are pleasant to take, can be carried in the pocket, and they cure because they digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and poison the blood.

Druggists everywhere sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages, at 50 cents. A book on Stomach diseases and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing The Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Stranded in a Deserted Town.

Sven, the Swede whose potato-planting experience testifies most significantly to his thrift, accompanied me to one of these deserted lumber towns, located on the shores of a beautiful lake. The first man we met was a middle-aged native mechanic who, in the palmy days, had had charge of an engine in the woods. His tale of woe was pathetic, in a way. He had worked at "lumbering" for many years. "Work was always plenty," said he; "for 12 years I never earned less than $3.75 a day and for a year or more I got $7.50 a day. But lumbering is dead now. I can't get any work and I haven't enough money to get away. Don't you think that's rather hard lines?" I didn't answer his question, but Sven remarked, sententiously: "Ef Ae ben earning tree dollar seventy fli' cents a day for ten yare, Ae not have to stay here an' ben catch bullhead to keep from starvin'." Sven took the words out of my mouth. Any workingman who earns as much as this man had earned, and has not enough good American sense to make himself comparatively independent in 12 years, is not a worthy object for sympathy, although we may pity his wife and helpless children.

STRANDED AFTER THE BOOM.

Largest Bet on Record.

The biggest bet on record, according to Mr. G. R. Sims, was made a few years back by a young American who was assistant at "a main" held in the grounds of a notorious young sporting marquis, now deceased. One bird was badly crippled and the other was fighting with terrible force. "Twenty thousand to a pinch of snuff on that one," said the young American millionaire, which was taken. The American won.

Bald-Headed Men.

Theories of cure may be discussed at length by physicians, but the sufferers want quick relief; and One Minute Cough Cure will give it to them. A safe cure for children. It is "the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results." W. D. Olney.

Merit in medicine means the power to cure. The great cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla prove its unequalled merit.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

SATURDAY, SEPT. 26, 1896.

In his speech in Brooklyn, last night, Chauncey M. Depew sought to make political capital out of the love and veneration in which the people of that city hold Henry Ward Beecher and his memory by quoting from one of his addresses to prove that if Mr. Beecher was alive to-day he would be outspoken in denunciation of Bryan and his cause. One of Mr. Beecher's sentences that was quoted comes very far from bolstering up the Republican cause. "Whoever tampers with established standards tampers with the very marrow and vitality of public faith" applies to the crime of '73 not to an effort to restore to the people the money of the constitution. It is never too late to right a wrong and trying to right the most grievous wrong ever done the farmers and wage earners of any country is not tampering with public faith. There is every reason for believing that if Mr. Beecher was still among the living he would be found championing the people's cause and supporting Bryan and free silver. The man who gave the best energies of his life to the anti-slavery cause and who helped free thousands of blacks from bondage would glory in the opportunity to help free 70,000,000 American citizens from bondage to the organized and insatiate greed of the money power.

* * *

In declining the nomination for Governor, John Boyd Thacher has done the one sensible thing that remained for him to do. His plan of campaign,—to capture the gold Democrats by declaring himself a believer in the gold standard, while retaining the support of silver Democrats by a pledge to support Bryan and Sewall because they were the regular candidates of his party, was a most dismal failure. The gold Democrats would not have him and the silver Democrats learned of his attempt to play good Lord, good devil with anger and disgust. No attention was paid to his suggestion that there were State issues great enough and important enough for him to make the canvass on them alone. Deserted by former friends and with a large element in the party clamoring for his withdrawal from the ticket it would have been worse than folly for him to have persisted in making a campaign for the Governorship.

It is, of course, too soon to make any predictions as to who will be named as his successor on the ticket. This much is certain, however. He will not be a half-and-half man. He will not try to win the support of the so-called gold Democrats. He will be an out and out silver man and under that standard he will march to victory or defeat.

THE BICYCLE PARADE.

The Ladies' Committee Trying to Arouse Interest Among Wheelwomen.

At the meeting of the ladies' committee on the bicycle parade held in Excelsiors' parlors, yesterday afternoon, each present pledged herself as a committee of one to arouse interest among her acquaintances to take part in the parade on the night of Oct. 7th. It is earnestly requested that all ladies will place their names at once on one of the lists at the different bicycle stores without personal solicitation in order that it may be known how large to form the divisions.

A Jewelry Store Burglarized.

About 3:30 o'clock, this morning, two men were discovered by Policeman Duffy, of Port Jervis, in the act of robbing the jewelry store of William Thoustrup in that village. The thieves took to their heels and escaped.

They had broken the glass in a front window, in which was a show case containing silverware, fancy clocks, etc. They then broke the glass in the case and when driven away by the officer had secured about $45 worth of goods.

"And They Shall Have Music Wherever They Go."

Some Middletown bicyclists have discovered a way of adding to the pleasure of cycling by providing music of the aeolian harp order as they spin through the streets. Rubber bands are stretched tight between the upper and lower tubes and the vibrations of these as the wind strikes them produces the sounds. The faster the wheel is propelled the more music is produced.

Watching Suspicious Characters.

The police since being informed of the burglary of a jewelry store in Port Jervis, last night have been on the lookout for suspicious characters. Officer Dunham has had his eye upon a stranger carrying a good sized hand bag, who has been closely inspecting jewelry store windows during the day.

Will Sleep in Pullman Cars.

Beacon Engine Company, of Matteawan, has made arrangements to visit this city in Pullman cars, in which they will sleep on the night of the 7th of October, thus being able to participate in the evening parade. The company was not able to secure hotel accommodations, all available rooms having been engaged for other companies.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR SUPREME COURT JUDGES.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—The Republican convention for the Second Judicial District this afternoon nominated for Justices of the Supreme Court, M. H. Hirschberg, of Newburgh, Maddox, Goodrich and Garretson.

GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS' COUP.

Free Silver Men Take Possession of the Hall in Which the State Convention is to Be Held—Great Excitement.

BY UNITED PRESS.

BOSTON, Sept. 26—The sensation of the hour is the free silver men's seizure of Music Hall, at the instance of George Fred Williams, who charged that the State committee leaders intended to pack the hall with men opposed to the Chicago platform and ticket. Some 600 men remained in the hall after the Bryan ratification meeting. One speaker said they would hold the hall in spite of Mayor Quincy, and the police and would use force if an attempt was made to eject them.

The State Committee and agent for the hall wanted the police to eject its occupants, but the police decided that they had no authority to interfere.

During the night the body of Delegate Hughes, of Somerville, was found in an alley adjoining the hall. He had been trying to enter the hall by a fire escape and been killed by contact with an electric wire.

The agent refused to allow sandwiches and coffee to be taken into the hall, but at 4 o'clock large baskets of sandwiches were hoisted through a window.

This morning the State Committee demanded possession of the hall from the agent. He said he could not deliver it.

A letter from G. Fred Williams was read to the occupants of the hall in which he thanked them for their loyalty, saying that Bryan was delighted with their spirit. They had a large majority of the delegates and must prevail.

The State Committee, finding the Williams men in possession of the hall at noon, refused to call the convention to order unless those inside came out. This the Williams men refused to do, and the State Committee adjourned to Fanieul Hall and held a convention there.

This they claim made bolters of the Williams men, who remained at Music Hall.

The delegates in Music Hall nominated G. Fred Williams for Governor and those outside ratified the nomination.

THACHER OFF THE TICKET.

The Notification Committee Informed That He Declines the Nomination for Governor—Danforth May Be Named to Succeed Him.

BY UNITED PRESS

ALBANY, Sept. 26.—John Boyd Thacher has declined the Democratic nomination for Governor. His declination was given to the press in advance of his meeting with the Notification Committee.

Mr. Thacher says in his letter of declination that he had no reason to expect that the convention would commit the party unreservedly to all parts of the Chicago platform and that, since it was known that his views on the financial question had not changed since his utterances at the June convention, he assumed that the nomination was made with the expectation that since the Governor has no official connection with national financial questions he could make the contest on State issues. He did not seek the nomination, but was willing and eager to contend against bossism controlling the public affairs of the State, but in view of circumstances that have occured since the convention feels constrained to decline the nomination.

It is said that Elliot Danforth will be nominated for Governor by the State Committee.

Senator Hill refuses to discuss the declination in any way.

At 1 o'clock the Notification Committee, Thacher and Judge Titus were in secret conference.

UNDER THE CAR WHEELS.

H. Wisner Mead, of Denton, Fatally Injured at New Hampton—Jumped from a Train Before it Stopped and Fell on the Track—Died in Thrall Hospital at Midnight.

H. Wisner Mead, son of Reuben C. Mead, of Denton, met with a shocking accident, last evening, which resulted in his death at Thrall Hospital at midnight.

He had been visiting his brother in Monticello and boarded train 22 at Port Jervis. The train reached New Hampton at 7:30 o'clock, last evening, and Mr. Mead jumped off before it came to a standstill and fell with his left leg across the rail. The car wheels passed over his thigh so close to the body as to expose his intestines.

No one witnessed the accident and by the merest chance Mr. Mead was discovered lying under the train before it started, or otherwise his body would have been ground to pieces. John McCrea drove up to the station while the train was standing there, and heard a groan and called the attention of Mrs. McVeigh, wife of the agent, who also heard groans and procured a lantern and Mr. McVeigh, Mr. McCrea and others soon discovered the form of a man under the car.

The unfortunate man was conscious and recognizing the voice of Mr. McVeigh called "Jim," and it was then that his identity was discovered and he was taken from under the car as tenderly as possible and carried into the depot. His leg was found several feet from the body, having been completely severed.

A messenger was at once dispatched to notify the young man's father of the accident and he and his housekeeper, Mrs. Barber came to the depot in a few minutes.

Mr. Mead was still conscious. Mrs. Barber remarked: "Poor boy, he was coming home and now he will go home dead." He heard the remark, looked up and said: "No, I'll get well."

There is no physician at New Hampton and whiskey was administered to keep up the man's strength. At Goshen the train was held while a physician was looked for, but none could be found and he was brought to this city. He retained consciousness until a few minutes before death came to relieve his sufferings.

The blow is a severe one to the young man's father. They lived together and since his wife's death he had come to rely upon the son altogether. His grief was pitiable when told that his boy was dead.

The unfortunate man was placed on board the Middletown Express and brought to this city and taken to Thrall Hospital where he died as stated at midnight.

Coroner Decker empaneled a jury who viewed the body, this morning, and the inquest was adjourned to 7:30 o'clock, Monday, at Rockafellow's undertaking rooms.

Mr. Mead was about thirty-two years old and resided with his father on the farm at Denton. Besides his father he is survived by two brothers, Merrit C. Mead, formerly a merchant, of this city, now a Pullman car conductor on the Erie, and Theo. D. Mead, a merchant of Monticello.

A YOUNG WOMAN'S ESCAPADE.

Hired a Rig for a Few Hours and Kept It a Week While Visiting Friends.

About two weeks ago, a young woman hired a rig of Liveryman Mowell, of Ellenville, for a few hours' drive. She did not return it, and after a week's search, in which a good deal of money was spent, Mr. Mowell chanced to hear that the rig was at Centreville, Sullivan county, and there he recovered it. The young woman, who is only eighteen, had had a fine time with the stolen property visiting friends at Pleasant Lake and elsewhere. She had painted the running gear of the wagon a dirty yellow. She had little idea of the gravity of her offense, and Mr. Mowell declined to prosecute.

MAN HUNT AT THE SUMMIT.

Officer Tyrrell Fires At a Fugitive—He Is Run Down By An Erie Signal Inspector—The Captive Not the Man Who Was Wanted.

Capt. Gould received word, this morning, that a jewelry store in Port Jervis had been entered by thieves last night and that two men who were supposed to have committed the burglary had boarded an east bound freight train. Officers Tyrrell and Durham were sent to the Summit, but the men were not on the train when it arrived.

A young man was loitering in the vicinity, and when he saw the policemen he started to run. The policemen followed, but the young man was fleet of foot and gained upon his pursuers. Officer Tyrrell fired two shots to scare the fellow, but they had not the desired effect.

The Erie's signal inspector, "Jimmy" Saunders, joined in the chase, and telling Tyrrell to cease fireing, he sprinted after the man and soon caught him.

He was handcuffed and brought to police headquarters where he satisfied the officers that he was not the man wanted by the Port Jervis authorities, and was allowed to go.

THREW RICE TOO VIOLENTLY.

A Port Jervis Woman Perhaps Fatally Injured by a Fall at a Paterson Wedding.

A Mrs. Van Keuren, of Port Jervis, attended the wedding of her nephew in Paterson, Wednesday afternoon. When the bridal party were taking their departure the guests showered them with rice, and Mrs. Van Keuren was throwing a handful of the grain when she slipped and fell violently to the pavement. The fall made her unconscious and a physician found that she had broken one of shoulder blades and had probably fractured her skull. She had not regained consciousness yesterday afternoon, and it is feared that her injuries will result fatally.

—Daniel Kiernan has been confined to his room for several days past by a severe attack of quinsy sore throat. His illness prevented his taking part in the base ball game between Goshen and the Asylum Reserves, yesterday.

—At the first concert of the Vocal Society for the coming season, on Thursday, Oct. 22, Barnby's "Rebekah," a sacred idyl, will be sung and there will be a miscellaneous programme of maennerchor music and part songs. —Rev. David Evans, rector of Grace Church, Middletown, has very kindly consented to assist at the benefit of the Athletic Society of the Goshen schools, at Music Hall, Tuesday evening, the 29th inst. —Harvey Garner, Goshen's "bad nigger," who was nearly killed in Newburgh, and who is now in the hospital in that city, is reported to be getting along nicely and to be in fair way to recover. It takes more than a rock or a bullet to kill Harvey. He was born for a different fate.

OBITUARY.

Miss Clare Morgans.

Miss Clare, daughter of Mrs. W. T. Morgans, of this city, died at High View, Sullivan county, at 1:40 p. m., to-day, aged seventeen years.

She grew worse day by day and the end came as above stated.

Miss Morgans was a bright and interesting young lady. She was a member of the class of '96 of Wallkill Academy, and would have graduated in June had she retained her health.

She is survived by her mother and the following sisters and brothers: Miss Maud J., principal of the Linden avenue school, Miss Lillian, stenographer and bookkeeper at the Press office: Miss Bertha, teacher at the Linden avenue school: Misses May and Edith at home: Floyd W., secretary of the Morgans & Wilcox Manufacturing Co., and Leslie and William T. at home.

POOR ITALY.

The Nation Is Impoverished and Threatened with Bankruptcy.

The condition of Italy attracts widespread attention and sympathy. The country is still suffering from the necessities of the position which she has assumed among the nations. Her "unification," consummated nearly 40 years ago, entailed on her enormous expenditures. She needed lines of railway to bind her territories together, and a military display to make her influence effective.

To escape isolation, to hold her own against France and still further to assert herself in the eyes of the world, she joined Germany and Austria in the famous triple alliance. This brought new burdens in its wake. The army was gradually strengthened, and warship was added after war ship, until Italy now maintains the navy of a first-class power.

The effort to build up a "united Italy" disorganized the finances of the country. As the armament increased, the treasury became empty. For years past the nation has had to meet large annual deficits. To raise the needed revenue, taxation has become more and more excessive, both because the amount needed was great, and because, owing to corruption in municipal and national administrations, a part only of the sum collected reached its rightful destination.

Bank scandals, involving the highest statesmen in the land, have aggravated the situation; despair of reaching a solution has furnished new opportunities to the radical and socialistic agitators of the violent type, and not long ago there was an insurrectionary movement in Sicily.

In many ways Italy is only at the beginning of the career which, as a great European power, she seems to have marked out for herself. Her manufactures are poorly developed, as compared with those of the United States, of Great Britain or Germany.

She has a population of artisans and laborers whose wages barely suffice to give them the imperative necessities of life. Hunger or actual starvation prevail over large areas of the territory. The sanitary arrangements of towns are of the most elementary kind. Ignorance is widespread, and there is much illiteracy.

It is also clear that, while the Italians possess qualities that connect them with an interesting and glorious past, they have also inherited some of the less praiseworthy traits of their ancestors.

In their proneness to anger, and the case with which they commit crimes of violence, the line of descent can be traced—for southern portions of Italy, at any rate—from the earliest period of Roman history down through the middle ages to our own day. The mob that might have been harangued by Cicero in the time of Caesar, or could have understood an oration from the lips of Dante during the struggle between the Guelphs and Ghibelines, is still, in its baser passions, the same mob as that which the other day, on receipt of the news from Abyssinia, proceeded to "smash things up generally."

The return to power of Marquis di Rudini puts an already tried man into a position of acute responsibility, but promises no important change in the policies of the nation. The ferment of the past month, while it revealed the excitability of the populace, showed also the unshaken loyalty of the Italian people to their king.—Youth's Companion.

TESTING STRENGTH OF CABLES.

They Must Be Able to Endure a Great Strain Under All Conditions.

With the increase in the use of high tension, high potential currents, cables are being made of greater strength and efficiency. The copper core, which carries the electricity, is thickly covered with rubber, impregnated jute or other insulating material, and for some purposes not only armored with heavy twisted metal rods, but covered with lead. In this way a cable for very heavy currents may be elaborately brought up to a diameter of two inches or more. The increase in the capacity of cables within the last few years has been extraordinary. When Mr. Ferranti, about six years ago, said he would supply current from the Deptford (London) central station at a voltage of 10,000 he was laughed at by many electricians, who maintained that no insulation could be made efficient enough to withstand the commercial use of such a current. Nowadays such an insulation would be taken as a matter of course, and cables have to stand a much more intense strain. Alexander Siemens recently gave some interesting details of a very complete test to which a large electrical firm had put a cable of their manufacture. They first put it under pressure of 45,000 volts, "but it did not mind," he said. They increased the voltage to 60,000 and left it on for half an hour. But still the cable held out. Then they tried the bending test, and put on 50,000 volts, and it stood it all right. After that they stripped off the lead covering and soaked it in water for 24 hours, and again tried it with [illegible] volts, with the same result. They then put it in a hot room, 100 degrees Fahrenheit, and kept it there for three weeks, after which they increased the temperature to 212 degrees for 24 hours, and they finally tested it with [illegible], but it still held good. After such an ordeal, Mr. Siemens maintained, there could be no fear of the cable standing in India or anywhere else.—Boston Transcript.

A prehistoric city, which apparently had a population of over [illegible], was discovered recently in Mexico by J. R. Bailey, an American archæologist. This ancient city is situated in a narrow valley between two high ranges of mountains. Nearly all the buildings are of brown stone, and are in a state of almost perfect preservation.—N. Y. Sun.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE cures nervous prostration. Not miraculously, but scientifically, by first removing the germs of disease, and then supplying healthy nerve food, increasing the appetite, helping digestion and strengthening the entire system. Desperate cases require prolonged treatment as shown by that of Mrs. M. B. Reed, of Delta, Iowa, who writes: "As the result of a lightning stroke, the physicians said I had a light stroke of paralysis, my limbs would all draw up. I would have throbbings in my chest that seemed unendurable. For three months I could not sleep and for three weeks did not close my eyes. I prayed for sleep, and felt that if relief did not come I would be dead or insane. I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and the second night slept two hours and from that time on my health improved; slowly at first, but steadily and surely. I took in all 40 bottles, and I cannot express how grateful I am, for I am now perfectly well, and have taken no medicine for over four months." Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by druggists on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded.

THE SHAH'S ASSASSINATION.

Causes That Brought About the Murder of the Persian Sovereign.

The assassination of Nasr-ed-Din shah of Persia, although doubtless causing a feeling of unpleasant surprise to Englishmen generally, was not entirely unexpected by those who knew the country and its people intimately. While writing I have before me a letter from a well-known resident of Teheran in which a forecast of possible political trouble is given: "The price of corn is going up by leaps and bounds, and much misery prevails among the poor. In the bazars complaints are loud against the government; and, bearing in view the fanaticism of the people, I should not be surprised if a religious disturbance resulted, aimed both against the palace and the hated 'ferenghi.'" The assassination of Nasr-ed-Din is doubtless the outcome of the misery prevailing among the populace; the head of the state being, in the eyes of a Mohammedan people, the fitting object of attack when general misery prevails. It is unlikely, however, that any movement against the foreign population will result, since nowhere is there that bitterness of feeling that prevails on the occasion of the famous tobacco riots, and even on that occasion the military remained uncorrupted.

For a long time past the shah had been taking liberties with the dangers that threatened him. It is always difficult to gauge a sovereign's popularity in a country where the mention of the royal name suffices to produce awe among a superstitious peasantry. But in Teheran and some of the larger town it is certain that the actions of the "Defender of the Faith" had given cause for chagrin. The visits of the monarch to Europe, the reforms instituted at home, especially the Europanizing of the capital and the introduction of improvements, have one and all been causes of deep resentment to the more powerful "mollahs," and consequently to the populace. The riots that have resulted, such as the outbreak on the Shah Abdul-Azim railway, the tramway imbroglio, and the tobacco riots, have all been expressions of this resentment; and to-day the "mollahs" are as active as ever in their denunciation of the Europeanizing of the native dress and the introduction of western fashions. On every occasion, largely through the influence of Russia, the shah has been on the side of reform and against the religious teachings, and the result undoubtedly has been a general feeling of dissatisfaction.

But the immediate cause of this outbreak of fanaticism—in which assuredly others are implicated besides the Said Reza, whose fate one shudders to contemplate—was undoubtedly the scarcity of provisions. Two causes of this scarcity are the legal exports of corn and the great increase of the copper coinage. It is a very serious offense against the laws of Persia to export grain; yet annually large amounts surreptitiously cross the Russian frontiers, and, in fact, the Russian dealers, protected by their government, practically buy up the corn of the eastern and northwestern provinces before it is grown.

The second cause of the disaster is the large increase of the copper coinage. Unless one has lived in Persia this does not at first sight appeal to us very strongly. In the capital, however, it is a very serious matter. The silver "kran" is there of good quality and weight. The copper metal is very cheap, and the mint makes a huge profit by coining copper for use in the bazars, when its real value is much below the nominal. The result is that the poor are paid in copper of "nominal" value, and discover that its purchasing powers are considerably below nominal. Bread has been rising in price for months past, and the populace have found it increasingly difficult to exist. The general discontent has afforded a splendid field for "patriotic" agitators, and the result is that the "reforming shah" has paid the penalty.—Cor. St. James Gazette.

Story of the Clerk Who Had Planned a Wedding Journey Awheel.

The clerk at the middle desk was soon to be married, so the red-haired clerk to his left and the bald-headed clerk to his right were doing all in their power to make his life unbearable.

"Are they going to take a wedding journey?" asked the bald-headed clerk.

"Not this time," said the red-haired one.

"Why not?"

"No funds. He spent it all on candy and theater tickets."

The clerk in the center shifted uneasily on his stool.

"That was foolish," said the bald-headed clerk.

"O, I don't know. He might not have got her otherwise."

"What's the use of having her if he can't carry her around and show her off?"

"He'll have the fun of knowing she's there."

"And they're not even going to the falls?"

"Not even to the falls."

The clerk in the middle raised his head.

"I've bought a couple of bicycles," he said, quietly, "and we rather expect the falls to come to us."—Chicago Tribune.

Inventors Rewarded.

During the present century several money grants have been made by the crown to inventors and discoverers, whose labors were deemed of advantage to the public. To Dr. Jenner, for his discovery of vaccination in 1802, £50,000 was given, and in 1807 $10,000. Dr. Cartwright received $50,000 and Mr. Crompton $40,000 for their various mechanical inventions; Mr. Palmer in 1813, $25,000 and an annuity of $15,000 for his plan of conveying the mails; and Mr. Harrison for his chronometer, $10,000. Since that time many grants have been made to arctic explorers and others.—Chicago Tribune.

CADET JOHNNIE SULLIVAN.

A West Point Boy Who Is In No Great Danger of Being Hazed.

Speaking of the recent "hazing" outbreak at the United States military academy, West Point, in which several plebes or members of the entering class were rather roughly used, one of the prominent members of the Southern Athletic club said the other day:

"Well, you can just bet any of your spare coin that those 'hazers' will not tackle one little plebe; that is, if they know when they are well off. You know who I mean; Cadet John P. Sullivan. Will they haze him? I don't think."

And the sportive club man smiled knowingly as he thought of the havoc that might be wrought in the ranks of the cadet corps should any attempt be made to impose upon his popular associate.

The other members present agreed unanimously with the speaker's views, and some suggested that if any attempts were made to haze "little Johnny" the custom might be brought to a sudden stop. Those interested in athletics in New Orleans will recognize the significance of the remarks when they bring to mind the great hammer thrower and weight tosser of the Southern Athletic club, who for the past few years has held the record for the south.

John P. Sullivan, who is a cadet at West Point, is no little boy, although young in years. He stands over six feet and weighs a little over 200 pounds. Every muscle in his brawny body is trained to great development, and his feat of hurling a 16-pound hammer 110 feet stamps him as one of the strong men of the country. Cadet Sullivan has also had several years' training in the gentle game of football, and he is well able to take care of himself in any and all situations. Moreover, he is a very good boxer. Take it all in all, Cadet Sullivan bids fair to make a most efficient army officer; one who can fight when necessity comes. Meanwhile his club mates in New Orleans are waiting to hear of the casualties when some of the swell-headed upper class men attempt to haze "little Johnnie."

It is, perhaps, needless to add that in the list of this year's plebes who have suffered the indignities of hazing the name of Cadet Sullivan will not appear. There are reasons.—New Orleans Democrat.

Life Influence.

A larger part of our lives than we are apt to suppose is the direct outcome of the habits of those around us. Unconsciously we think and speak and act as others do, and our standards of what is right and proper, beautiful or good, are formed from theirs. As the child emerges from the home into school, or the youth from his native place to another, he finds, to his astonishment, that there are other customs maintained, other standards upheld, other views entertained than those which he had supposed to be universal. This revelation often comes with a shock to his mind and a quick displeasure at the foreign intrusion. But gradually this passes into a better understanding of the new custom and a thoughtful comparison between it and his own. His mind is thus widened, his thinking faculties are awakened, his prejudices are shaken up, and the peaceful conflict gives him strength and independence.—N. Y. Ledger.

—We all have strings to us which some one else is pulling. — Atchison Globe.

A Titled Suicide.

Daughters of earls do not often commit suicide in England. Lady Mary Bligh, the 28-year-old daughter of the earl of Darnley and sister of Hon. Ivo Bligh, a famous Oxford cricket captain, walked down to a pond on her father's estate, Cobham hall, in Kent, took off her clothes except a combination garment, folded them neatly, then jumped into the water and drowned herself. The coroner told the jury that he "thought they would agree" that no lady in a state of sanity would divest herself of her clothing in the manner described. The evidence was that she had had bad headaches for some time previous, and there are rumors of an unhappy love affair.—N. Y. Sun.

No Wonder.

"The newly wedded couple next door do not seem to be on good terms."

"No; she painted the porch chairs and forgot to tell him."—Omaha Bee.

Strawberry Cream.

Mash together and let stand for 40 minutes one-half pound of sugar and one quart of fresh ripe strawberries. Then press and strain through a sieve. Add to this juice one-half package or one ounce of Kingery's gelatine, which has been soaked in a half cup of cold water for two hours and dissolved in one-half pint of boiling water. Place in a pan of ice water, beat until it begins to thicken, and when as thick as soft custard add to it two cups of thoroughly-whipped cream. Pour into molds and set away to harden. Serve with whipped cream. Other berry creams are made as the above.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WANT ASSESSMENTS REDUCED.

Certiorari Proceedings Begun Against Forestburgh's Assessors by Owners of Hartwood Lands.

Judge W. H. Crane, of Port Jervis, acting for himself and three other owners of 3,350 acres of land near Hartwood, and for the Hartwood Club, of which he is president, and which owns 2,848 acres, on which there are a large club house and five or six cottages, has begun certiorari proceedings against the assessors of the town of Forestburgh to secure a review of the assessments on the properties named.

On Judge Crane's application the assessment on the park property was reduced on grievance day from $7,000 to $5,000 and on the property of Crane & Co. from $3,000 to $2,500. Mr. Crane is not satisfied, however, and claims that the assessment is inequitable, other wild lands in the town being assessed at fifty cents an acre, while farms are assessed at only one-sixth or one-tenth of their value.

The assessors say that there is marketable timber on the tracts in which Mr. Crane is interested, and that the buildings and improvements cost about $25,000, and that the assessments under the circumstances are very low.

A STURDY SET OF WORKERS.

Postal Telegraph Linemen and the Way in Which They Live.

From the Monticello Watchman.

A sturdy set of workers, eleven in number, are the men employed on the Postal Telegraph line through this town. They are all powerful and sinewy fellows and have to be to do the work they follow for ten or eleven hours daily. Their duty is to place new poles where those in use are rotten, to dig new holes for the old poles, when they are sound and reset them, and to place the cross bars that support the wires in position. They receive $35 a month and "found." They camp out on a vacant village lot, their food is cooked by one of the party, and they seem to enjoy their life. Their place of destination is New York city which they expect to reach in about eighteen months. They left Olean three years ago, and have been at work winter and summer since.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT.

A Large Waiting Room at the Goshen Terminus of the Electric Road—Express Service by the Trolley.

S. P. Dusenberry has purchased the building occupied by him at the terminus of the electric road in Goshen and will remodel it and provide a larger waiting room which will be heated and lighted with electricity by the Traction Co.

The Independent says that arrangements are being made with the Adams Express Co. for the establishment of express business between Goshen and Middletown and Mr. Dusenberry will have charge at the Goshen end the line.

FARMERS' HEARTS MADE GLAD.

Big Crops Reward the Toil of Delaware County Farmers.

From the Walton Reporter.

Never has there been such a large crop of corn raised in this section as this season, and except in a few places where the late frosts have injured it somewhat it has been harvested in fine condition. The potato crop, while not yielding so large as last year, is above the average, and apples there is no end to. Many trees have broken down under the load and hundreds of bushels will go to waste.

Last Mary Powell Excursion of the Season.

The last Mary Powell excursion this season will be run by the Ontario and Western, Thursday next, Oct. 1st. Train will leave Wickham avenue at 7 a. m. and Main street, 7:02. Returning will leave Mary Powell dock, Desbrosses street, New York, at 3:15, and West 22nd street, 3:30 p. m. The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.

Low Prices for Cows at Chattle Mortgage Sale.

Twenty-four cows belonging to William Knapp, of near the Gate school house, were sold at auction, yesterday, under foreclosure of a chattle mortgage. Albert Knapp was the mortgagees' agent and M. Landy was auctioneer. The cows were a fine lot, most of them Belted Dutch, but the prices realized were not large the dairy averaging only $23.23 per head.

A Lost Child.

Edith, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jos. Allen, of Carpenter's Point, went out to play, Wednesday afternoon, and had not been seen or heard of up to yesterday afternoon. The child's parents are almost distracted.

A Very Sensible Idea.

The officials of the town of Warwick have substituted the word "retired" for "gentleman" in making their jury lists. Evidently Warwick officials do not believe that the only gentlemen in their town are those who are living on their incomes. The example is a good one.

OVER THE SHAWANGUNKS.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

All the News from All Parts of the County—Many Matters of Interest Condensed from Our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide Awake Correspondents.

—The body of the unknown man found along the O. and W. tracks in Smith Hill cut, near Hurleyville, Sept. 17th, was buried without identification. The man was five feet, ten inches in height, had light brown hair and moustache and was well dressed.

—A nice question of law is raised in the case of Lawrence Mullen against the town of Rockland. The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of $500 obtained by plaintiff and denied the right of appeal to the Court of Appeals. This was done under a law passed last winter which applies to all judgments rendered after May 12, but which does not affect those rendered prior to that date. The Mullen case was decided May 4th, but formal judgment was not entered until June 3d. Counsel for the town will ask the Court of Appeals to pass on the town's right to appeal under the circumstances.

—The trustees of Liberty village have called a special election to vote on the resolution which calls for a tax of one-third of one per cent. to "meet the expense of building suitable approaches to the new bridges on Main, Clements and School streets, and to repair damages caused by washouts."

—The Highway Commissioners have signed the required papers to put the new road through between Youngsville and Livingston Manor. D. T. Eastman has been making considerable road along the new route and only three miles of road remains to be constructed towards Youngsville.—Record.

—A cow belonging to Andrew Ebert, of Fall Mills, was eating with her head through a barbed wire fence, during the shower on the night of Sept. 18th. Lightning struck the fence and following the wire entered the cow's head, killing her instantly.

—Invitations are out for the marriage of G. Lewis McLaughlin to Miss Grace Ennis, Oct. 7th, at the Methodist Church, Monticello, at 8 o'clock, p. m. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride. The contracting parties are two of Monticello's most popular young people and the wedding will be a notable event.—Republican.

—The Democratic County Convention will be held at Monticello, Oct. 3d. The Republican convention will be held Sept. 29th.

—Barney, a valuable horse belonging to Miss Mary Calbreath, of White Lake, was kicked on the head by another horse while it was being led from the stall and died in less than two minutes.

—A movement is on foot in Liberty to organize a home for aged men and women.

—Mrs. Ada Maffett has been appointed matron of the Loomis sanitarium at Liberty.

—Forty cents a bushel is the ruling price for potatoes at Livingston Manor.

—The Ensign is reliably informed that certain parties in the vicinity of Livingston Manor are at their old tricks snaring partridges.

—Pearl, the five-year-old daughter of Jesse Huggins, of Livingston Manor, heated her mother's curling iron, Tuesday, and while attempting to curl her hair, struck her left eye with the hot iron, burning it so badly that Dr. DeKay, who was called, fears she will lose the sight of the eye.

—Frank Geraghty, of Monticello, had twenty-nine poultry entries at the Ellenville fair and secured nineteen first premiums, eight second premiums and one third premium.

—The academic department of Monticello's public school has been designated to instruct a teachers' training class.

—The town of Neversink fair held at Grahamsville, Wednesday, was the most successful held by the Association in the twenty-five years of its existence. There were 1,107 entries and the attendance was at least 2,500.

—John S. Robinson, who three years ago bought the Ruddick property in the town of Forestburgh and organized the Rod and Gun Club which came to grief, the property having been sold at mortgage sale, last summer, committed suicide in New York, last week. Financial troubles are supposed to have been the cause of the act. Mr Robinson's wife was a niece of ex-Gov. Flower.

MISS BRANDON DOUGLAS.

To Appear, To-night, in "The Man in the Iron Mask."

Miss Brandon Douglas will at the Casino Theatre, to-night, as Marie D'Ostanger in Donald Robertson's dramatization of Dumas' novel, "The Man in the Iron Mask."

Miss Douglas is a woman with a brain, not a "New Woman" by any means, but a thorough student of whatever subject she takes up. Her costumes, which are marvels of beauty, were designed by herself and executed under her personal direction by Redfern, of New York. Her ability as an actress has been proven, and we await with great interest her appearance here in a role, which we feel sure she will play powerfully.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or by unavoidable circumstances. DeWitt's Little Early Risers will cure them all. W. D. Olney.

For "Secreting a Field of Corn."

A Greene county farmer has been held in $50 bail for "secreting a field of corn." There was a chattel mortgage on the crop and the farmer cut the corn and hauled it to another field and thus, as a lawyer convinced a justice of the peace, committed the apparently impossible offense of "secreting a field of corn."

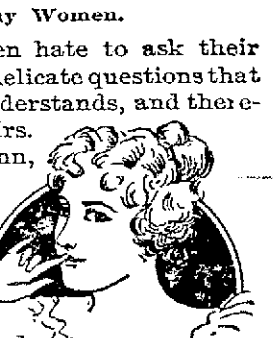
ASKING QUESTIONS.

It Is a Woman's Prerogative, and She Uses It.

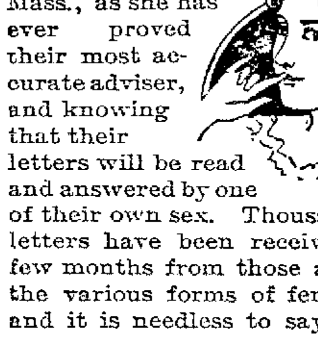
Timely Questions and Prompt Answers Have Resulted in Great Satisfaction to Many Women.



Sensitive women hate to ask their physicians those delicate questions that only a woman understands, and therefore write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., as she has ever proved their most accurate adviser, and knowing that their letters will be read and answered by one of their own sex. Thousands of such letters have been received within a few months from those afflicted with the various forms of female diseases, and it is needless to say the answers have brought comfort and relief.

That sense of dragging in the groin, dull pains in small of back, retention, suppression of menses, bearing-down pains, headache, nervousness, blues, etc., are symptoms that require prompt measures.

The cure is, in most cases, rapid. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be promptly taken, and Mrs. Pinkham will furnish any advice required, free. Following is another letter of thanks:—



"Please accept my thanks for the little book which you have sent me. It has opened my eyes, and told me that there is a remedy for suffering women. There is no need for women to suffer, if they will only take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for years with painful menstruation, thinking there was no remedy for it; but after reading your little pamphlet, I thought I would give your medicine a trial, and it is wonderful how quickly it relieved me. I recommend it for all women who suffer with painful menstruation."
